GROWING THROUGH EDUCATION

WHO ARE WE?

The National Association of State Foresters Foundation (NASFF) was established in 1983 to foster leadership among current and future members of the state forestry community.

WHAT DO WE DO?

WE DEVELOP.

Since 1999, NASFF has supported on-the-job experience for college students through the James Hubbard Internship for Policy and Communications. Selected interns engage at the national level to influence the future of state and private forestry.

WE TELL THE STORY.

Each year, NASFF awards a photo fellowship to an aspiring photographer. The selected fellow traverses the country, capturing photos that help tell the compelling story of state and private forestry.

WE EDUCATE.

In partnership with the USDA Forest Service, NASFF offers state foresters and qualified agency staff the opportunity to participate in Harvard University's Executive Fellowship, a program hosted by the John F. Kennedy School of Government.

WHY DONATE?

NASFF exists because of donations from people like you who are passionate about the future of forestry. Because NASFF is a tax-exempt, 501(c)(3) educational organization, your donations are 100% tax-deductible.
